CITATION FOR KATHERINE CREBER

Read by Kate Lawson, President of OCUFA

On behalf of the Ontario Confederation of University Faculty Associations, it is an honour to present a 2014 OCUFA Service Award to Professor Katherine Creber. As a passionate and dedicated faculty leader, she has deftly guided the Canadian Military Colleges Faculty Association (CMCFA) and OCUFA through numerous local and provincial challenges.

Katherine joined a freshly certified CMCFA in 1990. Since that time, she has served as a member of the executive, as association Vice-President, and finally as President of CMCFA. While advancing faculty interests as President, she also received an award for academic leadership from Royal Military College. This speaks to Katherine's sensitivity and commitment to her members, not to mention her widely recognized talent as a leader and advocate.

Katherine joined the OCUFA Board of Directors in 1998, and served for an impressive 10 years. Throughout this time, she provided intelligent, well-reasoned, and articulate advice to OCUFA. Katherine was an important component in OCUFA's work to advance the interests of faculty and a high-quality university system in Ontario.
